Website Back up Woot!!!!

After repeated e-mails with support at STARTLOGIC WEB HOSTING to no avail I have moved the site to a new host and have us back on line without worrying about lag and the other issues. We will be adding new content over the next week to help you out.

I truly suggest not to use STARTLOGIC as a hosting company due t the fact that their support is handled by people that don't understand much their answer was it iw all in my coding as we see it isn't as this is a direct download and move.
